

NEUROBEHAVIORAL
TERATOLOGY
SOCIETY

- established 1977 -

Dear NBTSers,

We will be having our 34th Annual Meeting June 26th – 30th, 2010 At the Marriott Louisville Downtown in Louisville, KY right on the Ohio River, gateway for the settlers of the early 19th century. We will be there for some great early 21st century scientific discussion.

We have some outstanding symposia planned including:

The BTS Symposium on Behavioral Toxicology of Cognition: Extrapolation from Experimental Animal Models to Humans;

A joint NBTS+TS+OTIS Symposium on the Developmental Risks of Psychiatric Drugs;

A joint NBTS+TS Symposium on Advancing Neurodevelopmental Evaluation in Children: An Interdisciplinary Approach; and

New Model Symposium on Zebrafish Models for Neurobehavioral Teratology: Opportunities and Challenges.

Dr. Neil MacLusky will present the Elsevier Special Lecture: Bisphenol-A Impacts on Sex Differences in Neural Processes.

There will be an important State of the Art Lecture by Dr. Linda Birnbaum, Director of NIEHS.

Finally, Open Platform and Poster presentations will feature cutting-edge science by our attendees.

Abstract submission and registration will be available through a link on the NBTS web site, NBTS.org. Abstract submission is not yet available, but will be soon. We will notify you when the link is posted. The deadline for abstract submission is February 15.

There will be competitive Travel Fellowships for Students and Postdocs. Those who wish to apply should designate their abstracts as eligible for the competition.

For more information on the meeting, visit www.NBTS.org or email me, Ed Levin, President of NBTS at edlevin@duke.edu.

I look forward to our meeting together for the advancement our field to help reduce neurobehavioral toxicity through better scientific understanding.

Thanks for your support of our society.

Ed Levin

President of NBTS